

Future Race Directors!

The Graffiti Run goes all around the United States (soon the World) spreading cheer to our participants. This alone is a great reason to host our type of run, but we sometimes are not able to make it to your city. While this is a regrettable part of the business we have finally found a solution!

The Graffiti Run is announcing that it is putting our color on sale in bulk! Now you can live your dream of hosting one of these great events in your own backyard! Our color is FDA approved corn starch which is both safe for your future Graffiti Runners and the grounds of your venue.

Think bulk color would be a little too much for your event? How about individual packets? We are also selling our color pre-packed, for your runners' color throwing pleasure! Give them as fun little hand-outs or use them as the centerpiece for your run, either way your runners will love them!
